Xiaonan (Coco) Kou

Research Interests:
- Individual giving and volunteering
- Corporate philanthropy
- Cross-national comparative studies

Research Methodologies:
- Quantitative
- Qualitative methods

Tentative Dissertation Title: Corporate philanthropic responses to overseas disasters

Primary Advisor: Dr. Leslie Lenkowsky

Research Statement:
My current research focuses on individual giving, and corporate philanthropy. With a strong passion for research in the nonprofit sector, I believe that research and practice can come together to make the world a better place.

Personal Info:
Have been working with a foundation in China since 2005, I am also passionate about improving rural education and about promoting cultural and educational exchanges across countries. I received my master's degree in public policy and certificate in nonprofit studies from Johns Hopkins University.